Published NGER corporate emissions
2021–22 to 2023–24

298M
Published corporations' Scope 1 emissions (2023–24, t CO_2-e)

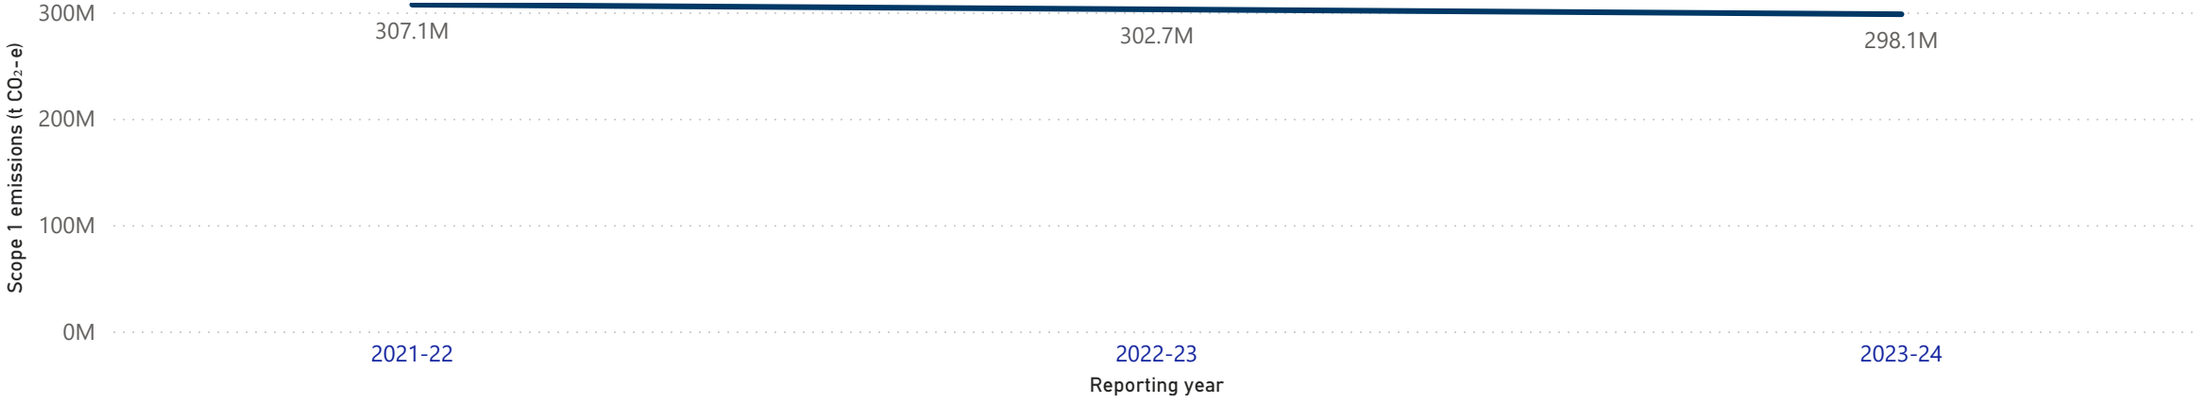

195M
Top 20 corporations' Scope 1 emissions (2023–24, t CO_2-e)

392
Published corporations, 2023-24

Scope 1 emissions by sector — top 20 corporations, 2023–24

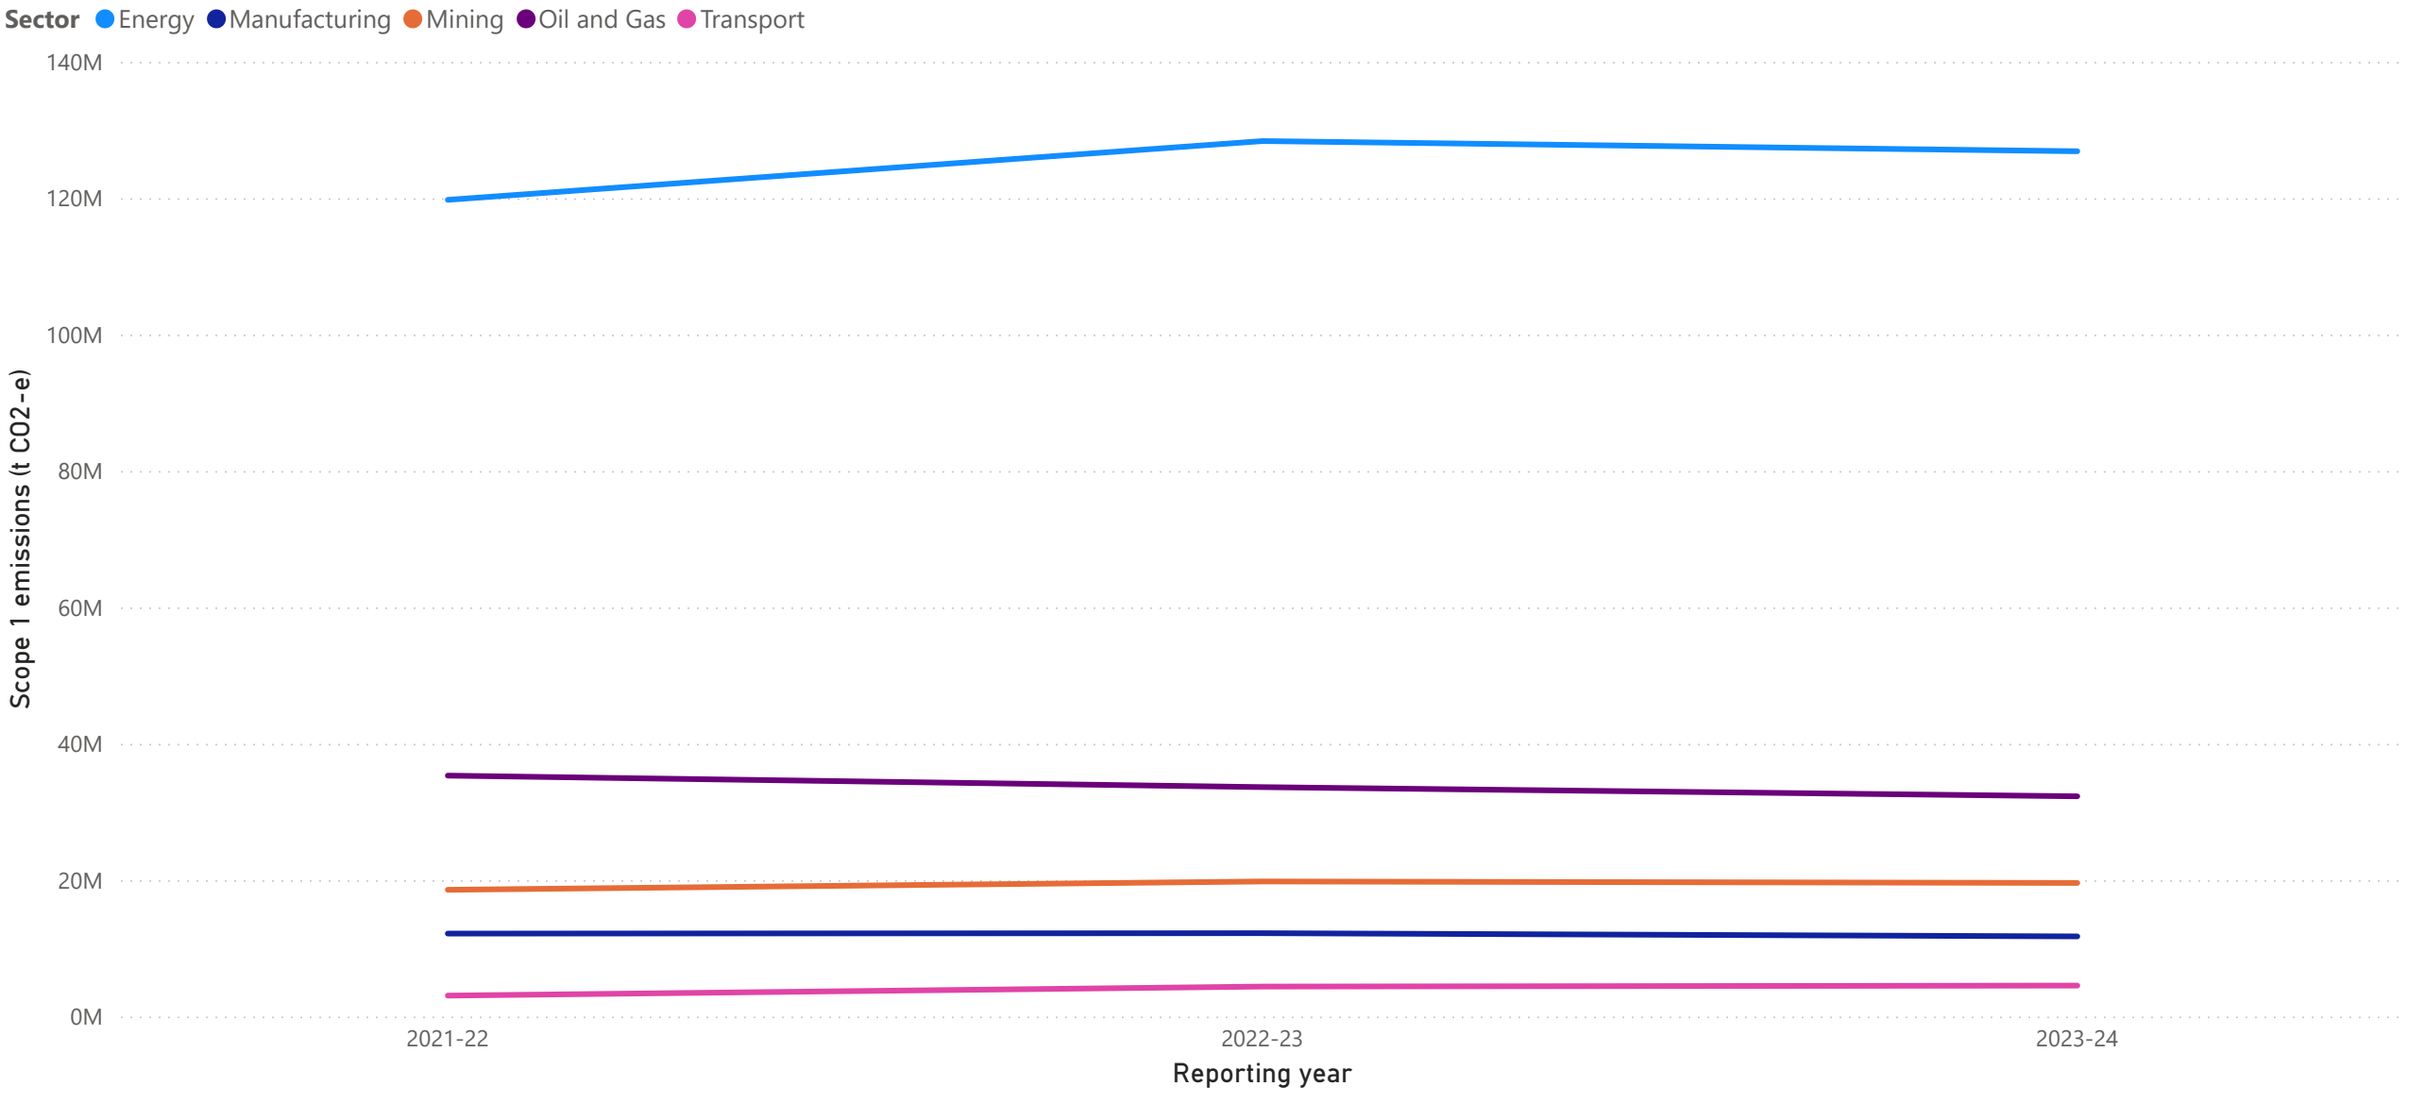

Published corporate Scope 1 emissions fell 2.9% from 2021–22 to 2023–24 (t CO_2-e)

Source: Clean Energy Regulator, NGER corporate emissions and energy data, 2021–22 to 2023–24. The set of published corporations varies by year. Figures do not represent Australia's total emissions.

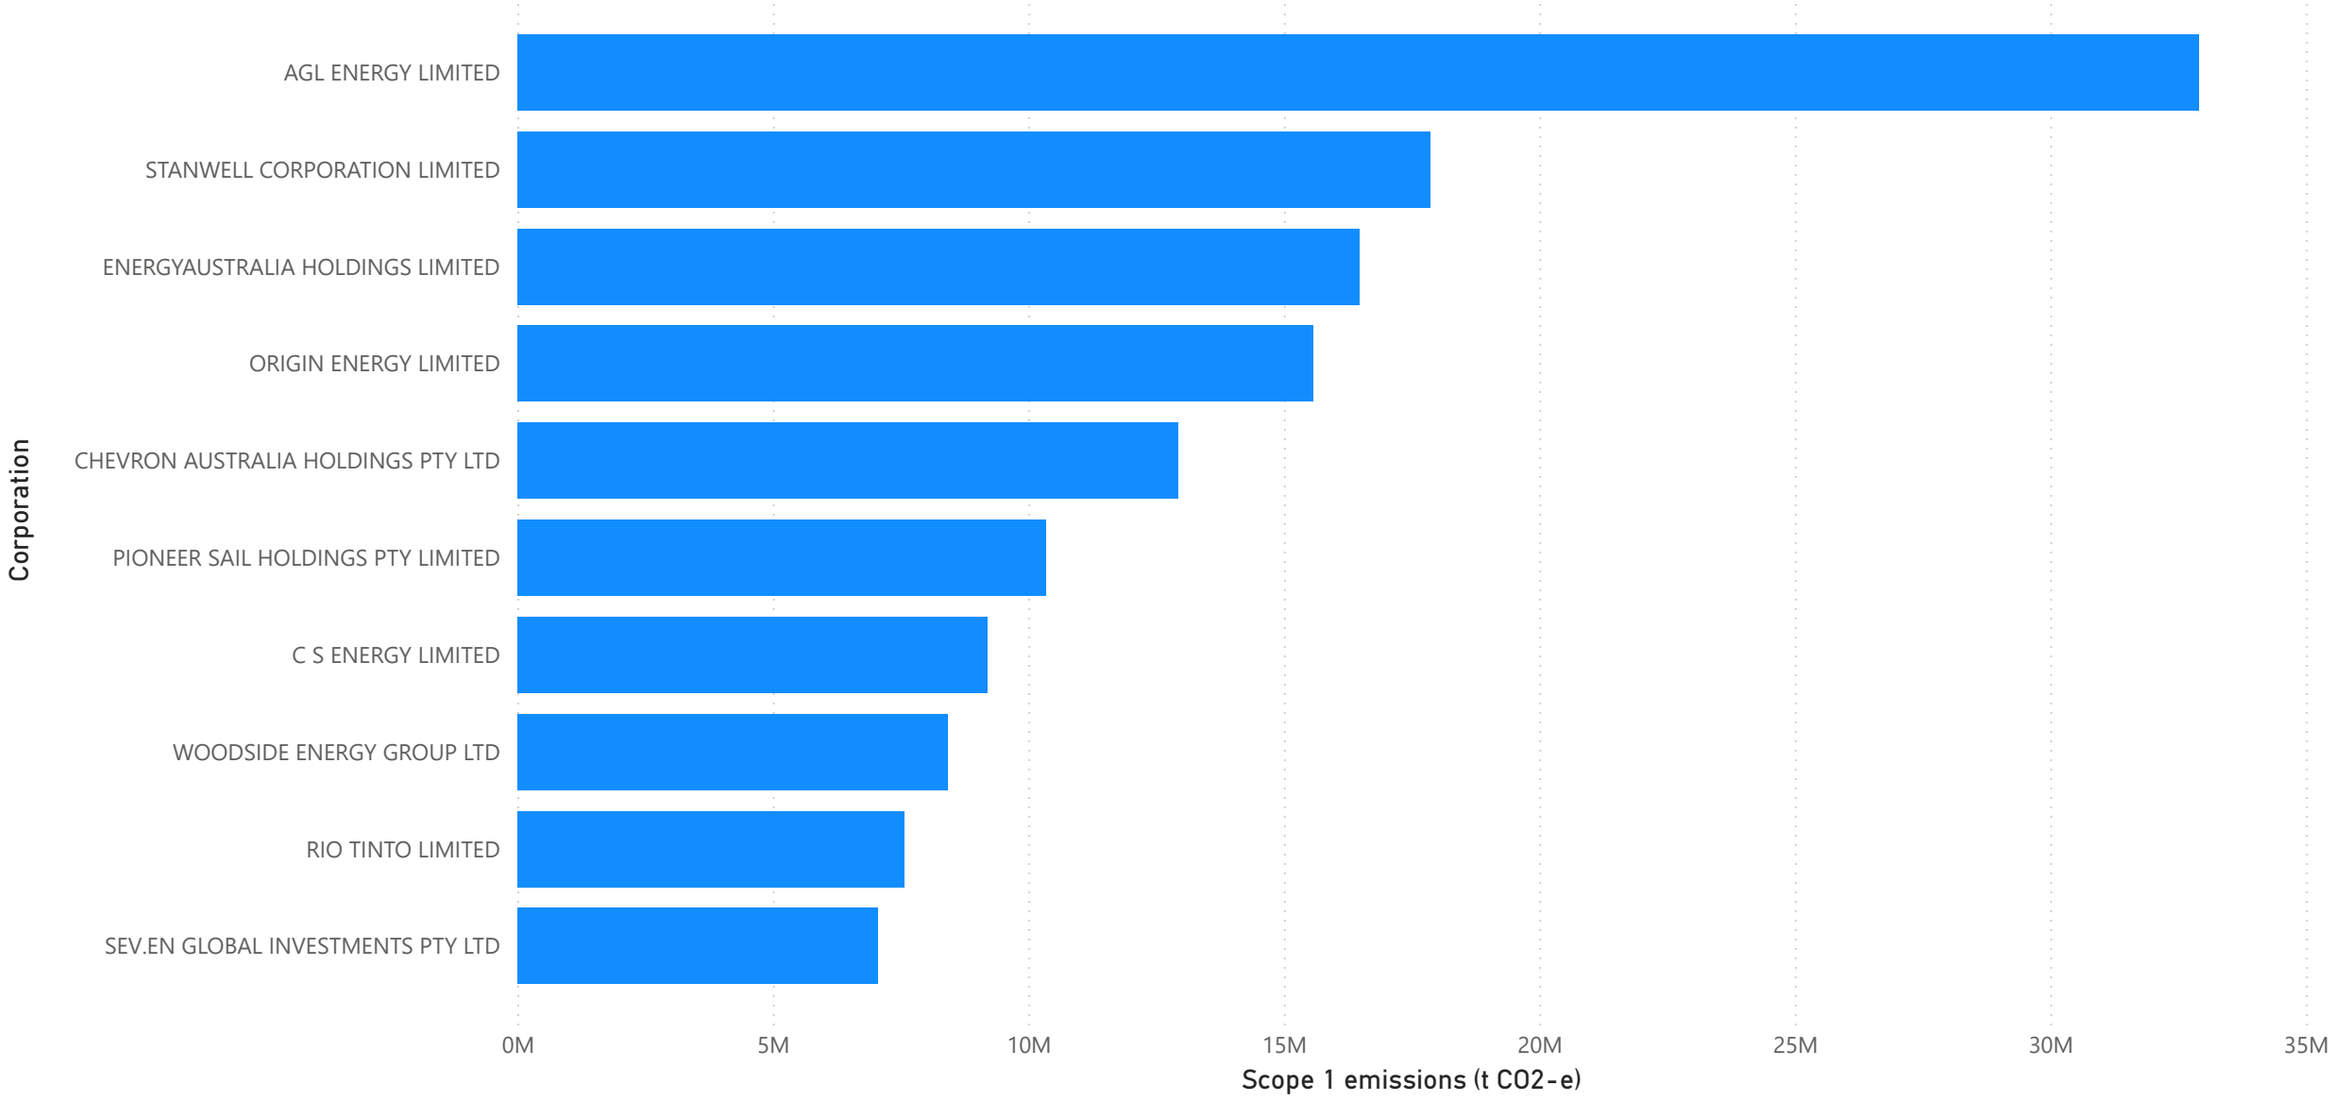

Published corporate Scope 1 emissions — sector trends

Energy emits 3 to 4 times more Scope 1 emissions than any other sector (2021–22 to 2023–24)

Top 10 Scope 1 emitters

AGL Energy emitted almost twice as much Scope 1 as the next largest corporation (top 10 corporations)

Key insights

Published corporate Scope 1 emissions fell from 307.1 million tonnes CO_2-e in 2021–22 to 298.1 million tonnes in 2023–24—a decrease of 9.0 million tonnes (2.9%)

Coverage: published NGER corporations, not Australia's total emissions. The reporting population may change each year; the trend is not a like-for-like measure of abatement.

In 2023–24, the top 20 corporations were 5.1% of the 392 published corporations but accounted for 65.4% of corporate Scope 1 emissions. A small group of large reporters accounts for most reported emissions.